DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-9, 11-14, 17, 18, 29-34, 36, and 38-40 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The independent claims of Applicant's invention are directed to a system for sending an advertisement to a consumer that will be used by a consumer device to guide the consumer to a location in which resides a merchant. Once the consumer arrives at the location, the consumer device will send an arrival notification signal, and the advertiser will then be charged for placing the advertisement based on the arrival notification signal being sent.

Treyz (U.S. Patent No. 6,587,835) teaches a navigational portable device that receives advertisements from shops to which the consumer is in close proximity. The proximity advertisements of Treyz, however, are sent by each individual shop device as opposed to an "advertisement providing apparatus for managing the advertisement information requested by the store apparatus". Treyz teaches the mall as sending advertisements for stores within the mall, and while it would be obvious for the mall to generally charge individual stores for this advertising, there is no mention in Treyz of the mall apparatus confirming that a consumer has arrived at a store after receiving an advertisement, nor is there any mention of charging an advertiser for such a successful implementation of the advertisement. Treyz does not teach the processing of a "billing signal transmitted by the advertisement providing apparatus based on a user visit identified by the transmitted arrival notification signal".

Dashefsky (U.S. Patent No. 6,098,048) teaches receiving advertising at a navigational portable device and briefly mentions measuring a change in frequency of visits by a consumer after introduction of an advertisement. Dashefsky does not teach charging an advertiser, let alone what criteria to use in determining such a charge.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
